

Equip Board Members

Dynamic Works, in collaboration with the National Association of Workforce Boards (NAWB), has developed an online training course for Workforce Investment Board members titled, "WIB Members in Action - Making an Impact on the Community"

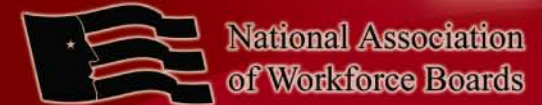

The course helps board members better understand the workforce development system, their local WIB, their roles as board members and what they can do to exercise strategic governance and leadership roles.

Fits a busy schedule

We know how hard it can be for board members to find time to attend training meetings so these classes are designed to allow online access anytime, anywhere. Board members can easily fit the training into their tight schedules and take one of the modules whenever it is convenient.

- Recognition of a well trained board

“Our board’s experience with this training has been outstanding. We all know how difficult it is to reach all of our board members to incorporate training into their busy schedules and this self-paced online approach has been most successful. In this day of trying to leverage every resource and dollar, the online WIB member training has been a highly successful use of our funds and of our WIB member’s time.”
